

Fill in the blank mystery

Eating gives us the fuel we need to live. But that's only part of the story. Fill in the blanks in these sentences with words that have to do with diabetes.

When you __ __ __, you not only feed your hunger, you feed your body.

From your head to your toes, your body is made up of millions of __ __ __ __ __.

To do their work, your body's cells need a fuel called __ __ __ __ __.

The sugar comes from the __ __ __ __ we eat.

Another name for this fuel is __ __ __ __ __.

But to be able to eat, the cells need access to a 'key' called __ __ __ __ __.

Insulin is made in a part of your body called the
__ __ __ __ __.

The pancreas is a small organ about 10cms long,
which sits behind your __ __ __ __ __.

Special cells in the pancreas called __ __ __ __ __ cells make insulin.

When T1D happens, the pancreas stops making
__ __ __ __ __.

__ __ all need insulin to live.

Meet your pancreas!

Word bank

insulin | cells | insulin | beta
| glucose | We | stomach
pancreas | eat | food | sugar

